Protect Your Equipment for Longer Life

At Gardner Denver, our engineering philosophy is centered on creating equipment that is high quality and reliable, giving you confidence in your investment. Our Platinum Series service offerings are tailored to provide the best possible care to your compressed air systems, allowing you to focus on your operations.

Which service offering is right for your new equipment?

When you invest in the Platinum Guard or Platinum Trust Service Offerings, our commitment to your business extends well beyond the purchase—it ensures excellence of service throughout the lifetime of your equipment.

No Coverage? No Problem.

Gardner Denver has you covered. For older installations or machines past their registration period, our Platinum Guard and Platinum Trust coverage plans offer airend and major component protection for the initial 10 years of your equipment's lifespan (and beyond).
